J. P. MORGAN AND WILSON CONFER

call. You will have to ask the President about that. I believe you will see him this afternoon. Do you not?"

As he left, he said that his visit had been most pleasant.

The President said that he and Mr. Morgan were old acquaintances, and that their interview had been given over largely to talking about old friends. The engagement had been prolonged beyond the allotted fifteen minutes. Mr. Wilson said, at his own wish.

The new policy of the President with regard to conferring with the big financiers drew attention to his recent declaration in a speech on business conditions, that he had not been working in the dark in preparing and pushing the anti-trust program. The President indicated that that had been in touch with the leading business men in the country and knew their thought upon the probable effect on the legislation upon business.

The Chicago Delegation.

In the Chicago committee who are to see the President soon are the heads of the following corporations: Farwell and Company, Marshall Field and Company, Carson, Pirie, Carson and Company, J. Y. Ryerson and Sons, Cudahy Packing Company and Reid, Murdoch and Company. Joseph H. DeForest, president of the Chamber requested the engagement.

President Wilson said he believed the business men of the country are showing a more equitable attitude toward the enactment of the anti-trust bills. The objects which they have communicated to him, he said, had not been directed against any one of the pending provisions as having a probable bad effect upon business. He had concluded from the tone of many of these objections that their authors did not read the administration measures.

MAKERS OF NOTES MUST PAY

Individual Settlement Plan to Reduce Liabilities of Claffin Co.

New York, July 2.—Each maker of a note bearing the indorsement of the H. B. Claffin Company is to be held individually responsible for its indebtedness. His assets will be held separately for the benefit of his creditors and not confused with assets of other corporations. This is the plan by which the note holders' committee hopes to reduce a large proportion of the contingent liability of the H. B. Claffin Company, upon approximately $30,000,000 of notes, which bear the Claffin indorsement. In its notice to note holders sent out tonight, the committee says:

"Proof of the respective notes will be filed against the makers and efforts will be made to collect as large a portion of the notes from the makers as is possible, thus reducing the contingent liability of the indorser. The committee will proceed against each of the makers on behalf of all note holders holding obligations of that maker, and will obtain information about each of the corporation makers, and will transmit such information to the parties interested."

DENTISTS REVEAL SECRETS.

Remarkable Clinics Are Held at Philadelphia Convention.

Philadelphia, July 2.—Dental clinics revealing new secrets to the members of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society were held today at the Bellevue-Stratford and at city hall, marking the close of the forty-sixth annual convention of that body.

Dr. Michael T. Barrett, who has discovered the germ which causes the dread disease pyorrhea, exhibited one of his patients who had this disease and showed the animal organism which caused it. A number of dentists saw the remarkable results which Dr. E. B. McCullough has been achieving at his free municipal dental clinic in city hall.

MAN GROUND TO DEATH.

Mohegan, N. Y., July 2.—Samuel H. Horton, of Peekskill, was thrown under a moving machine and ground to death when his horses ran away after being attacked by a swarm of bees here today. His brother Spencer found him with his nose, one arm and head cut off, impaled on the knives of the mower.

FURIES KICK IN COURT.

Carmarvon, Wales, July 2.—Two militant suffragettes, known as "Miss Lloyd" and "Miss North," were sentenced to three months each in the Asstz Court here today, but when sentence was imposed they created a scene unique in the Welsh courts. The women were charged with window smashing, fought and screamed continuously throughout their trial. Later they threw themselves prone upon the floor where they howled and kicked.

POINCARÉ TO VISIT RUSSIA.

Paris, July 2.—The French Cabinet today requested Parliament to appropriate $30,000 to cover the expenses of President Poincaré's visit to Russia, Sweden, Norway and Denmark at the end of this month.

CAPITAL MEN BOOSTED.

N. L. Orme Indorsed for Santo Domingo Collector of Customs.

With the announcement of the resignation of W. H. Vick as collector of customs for Santo Domingo, comes the suggestion of the name of Norman L. Orme, a Washingtonian, for his place. Mr. Orme has been constantly under fire during the revolution.

Mr. Orme lived at Takoma Park and was an employee of the Treasury Department until two or three years ago. He was then transferred to Porto Rico, where he served as deputy collector of customs at San Juan. He went to Santo Domingo with Collector Vick when the latter took over the administration of customs for that island republic. There he was assigned to Puerto Plata, the city of second importance in the island.

Mr. Orme's wife and three children are with him. He came originally from Arizona and Senators Smith and Ashurst indorse him as a successor to Collector Vick.

PLANNING SANCTUARIES FOR ALL WILD BEASTS

British Government Invites Nations to Aid in Protecting Animals in Africa.

IVORY HUNTERS ARE BLAMED

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.

London, July 2.—Sanctuaries where the elephant and the rhinoceros may roam without danger of molestation are to be provided in various parts of Africa as a result of a conference just held here.

At the invitation of the British government, delegates from Germany, Belgium, Spain, France, Italy, and Portugal met under the presidency of Lord Chelmsford. They discussed the desirability of protecting the great beasts, which will undoubtedly be ratified by the governments involved.

The direct cause of the slaying of the elephant and rhinoceros is to be forbidden. The shooting of the animals is to be permitted only on license, the conditions of which are to be identical in the different territories. Absolute protection of the rhinoceros for a term of years is recommended. No tusks are to be exported, unless over twenty-two pounds weight.

There has been little concerted action since the International Conference on Africa, animals called by the late Lord Salisbury in 1909. In the meantime, the need for protection has increased very greatly. Both the elephant and the rhinoceros take long to come to maturity and are very slow breeders, so that if the stock became dangerously reduced it would not be easy for it to recover.

There is, unfortunately, no doubt that immense destruction has taken place, and that the numbers are being rapidly reduced. The primary causes are the opening up of Africa, the building of railroads, the spread of cultivation, and the increased numbers of whites and natives in possession of modern weapons.

Herds of elephants have been wiped out in certain localities because of their occasional depredations to the plantations of settlers—a course that is declared to be unnecessary, as these intelligent animals could be scared off by the killing of the leaders of the herd.

The direct cause of destruction, however, has been the quest of ivory in the case of the elephant and of horns, hides, and meat in the case of the rhinoceros.

WARRANTS FOR BUTTE RAIDERS

Butte, Mont., July 2.—Officers obtained county warrants today for persons charged with the recent holdup of the Western Federation of Miners, and blowing up and robbing the union's safe, June 13. Other warrants charge the theft of powder from the Stewart mine on the night of June 23, and the blowing up of Miners' Union Hall.

These warrants were issued by direction of the county attorney, on whose advice the County Commissioners offered rewards Tuesday of $4,000 for the apprehension of persons who had participated in the recent riots.

STREAKS FROM SACRED BULLS.

THREATEN BASEBALL BOYCOTT.

Pittsburgh, July 2.—The Westinghouse strikers today sent Gov. Tener a ultimatum that unless he withdraws the State constabulary from the strike zone they will inaugurate a boycott movement against the National League, of which Tener is president. The strikers today were planning to station pickets before the buildings here. Both are owned by the company.

According to two English scientists the sense of smell in man is small, when compared with animals, because of the practice of kissing, and gradually is being destroyed for that reason.

FETE RECALLS BABYLON LUXURY

Former Mrs. Jackson Gouraud's Idea Utilized to Aid Red Cross.

SOCIETY WOMEN POSE

There Were No Surplus Clothes on the Beautiful Duchess de Gramont, and Paris Was Amazed.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.

Paris, July 2.—The idea of Mrs. Alexander Mackinnon, formerly Mrs. Jackson Gouraud, for a realistic Egyptian fete when the French aristocracy borrowed it for a Red Cross charity festival and enlisted the support of American society women for the most superb society affairs of the present century in Paris, the flimsy costumes worn by the women of the nobility, French families and the gorgeous scenic setting, momentarily confirming the world-wide impression that Paris is a modern Babylon.

The Private Theater.

The fete was given in the handsome private theater in the mansion of the Countess de Beas, kin by marriage of the late Beatrice Winans, who married Prince de Beas.

Marquis de Sazanac wrote an Egyptian ballet for the occasion entitled "Rameses the Victorious," the setting being the sumptuous Palace of Memphis.

Paris won't soon forget the dazzling picture of American beauties laying floral offerings at the feet of Prince Antoine, of Braganza, figuring in the heroic role of Rameses, as he was borne into the palace on a litter supported by four negro slaves.

Scant Clothing Worn.

There were no surplus clothes on the fascinating Queen Naphrit, represented by the noble and beautiful young Duchess de Gramont, and Paris was amazed by the flimsy costumes worn by her retinue of American and French society women.

Among the brilliant throng of women who danced rhythmical measures struck symbolical poses were Mrs. Harry Lehr, the Countess Eleonora Coloredo-Mantel (nee Iselin), and Mrs. Roger Hart.

KEYS CLEW IN BALLOU CASE.

Stamford, Conn., July 2.—It was learned that the police have in their possession two Yale lock keys which they found in the apartment of Mrs. Helen M. Angle, the ownership which they have not established. One of the keys was found in the front door of the building, including the door of Mrs. Angle's apartment. The other key, it is said, does not open any door in the building.

Dr. Bruce Weaver said tonight he had not completed his chemical analysis of stains found in Mrs. Angle's apartment. He will not be ready to testify tomorrow. It is expected the inquest will be continued.

START 'WET' EXPRESS COMPANY

Wheeling, W. Va., July 2.—Organization of the two local express companies to operate between Wheeling and "wet" towns in Ohio brought from anti-saloon league leaders today the statement that the question would be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission, on the ground that to become a common carrier an express company must carry less than 50 per cent of one commodity.

They are also insisting that persons to whom liquor is consigned must appear personally at transportation offices to claim it. It was said that the railroads have promised to co-operate with them in enforcing this rule.

LEANDER CREW BEATEN BY HARVARD AT HENLEY

Union Boat Club, of Boston, and Winnipeg Eight Dispose of Other British Clubs.

J. B. AYER, U. S. SCULLER, LOSES

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.

Henley, England, July 2.—The two American eights which rowed for the Grand Challenge Cup in the great Henley regatta today spurted home first by a good margin in spectacular time. Winnipeg's entry won over the Thames Rowing Club's crew in impressive fashion and in very fast time. The two Boston entries, the Harvard eight and the crew of the Union Boat Club, respectively, defeated the London Rowing Club and Leander, the latter being regarded as the most dangerous of the English eights.

A great throng along the banks of the river saw the contests, and the American eights were loudly cheered as they swept across the finish line.

The Crimson crew came home a length ahead after a desperate struggle. This was the first time in many years that Leander did not get into the finale of the big race. Harvard's time was 7:52.

The Union Boat Club crew easily defeated the London Rowing Club, Boston led home by four lengths, doing the distance in 7:48.

Canada scored in the first heat when the eight of the Western Canada team easily defeated the Thames Rowing Club. Winnipeg had been fancied as a possible winner of the Grand Challenge, and the eight appeared to justify the prediction. They showed great power and remarkable oarsmanship.

Winnipeg's crew won by a length after a close contest. The Mainer Rubber Verein crew from Mayence, Germany, defeated the crack Jesus College, Cambridge, crew in the last elimination heat.

This was the last English crew in the trials. The fight for victory was desperate, the German oarsmen winning by only three-quarters of a length.

The time for the race was 7:52. United States entrants for the Diamond Sculls, the world's single championship, were finally eliminated when J. B. Ayer, of the Union Boat Club, was defeated by Giuseppe Sinigaglia, of the Lario Club, of Como, Italy. Sinigaglia's superiority over the American oarsman was marked. He had easily three lengths when the sculls swept across the line. His time was 5:20.

R. Bibble, of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto, won his elimination race for the Diamond Sculls, defeating J. Lawrence Tamm, of the Thames Rowing Club, London. Bibble is the American amateur champion and is fancied as a likely winner of the event.

Harvard has accepted an invitation to send an eight and a four to the Henley regatta.

WHITE SLAVERS AT SALEM.

Cases Discovered When Men Preyed on Old Fire Victims.

Salem, Mass., July 2.—A band of white slavers made their appearance today at the relief camps in the fire swept city. The police discovered several cases where girls had been approached by men who offered them transportation to Boston and other cities, giving them addresses in questionable districts. Patrolmen and detectives have been warned to keep a sharp lookout for the looting.

Several landlords who have raised rents, finding that there appears to be no legal redress for the tenants, have threatened those who complain with eviction, it was learned today.

The Naumkeag Steam Cotton Company, which had a weekly payroll of $13,000, said its 1,500 operatives in full June 25. Today, notwithstanding that the plant is in ashes, the operatives will be paid in full for the present week.

WON'T MIX UP IN HAITI.

No Danger of Intervention Now, Says President Wilson.

There is no danger of intervention in Haiti at present, according to President Wilson, and while he has not given close attention to the situation for the last week, he does not regard it as serious as it has been represented. In his further reference to foreign affairs the President told his visitors that Japan had not yet replied to the most recent American note and that no steps had yet been taken for the formulation of a new treaty with Russia.

The President declined to talk about the case of George Fred Williams, United States Minister to Greece, except to say that his resignation had not yet been accepted by this government, so far as he knew.

VAST CROWDS WATCH ROYAL CORTAGE PASS

Slain Archduke and His Consort Are Laid at Rest in Vienna as Half a Million People Mourn Dead.

DECORATIONS PUT ON COFFINS

Vienna, July 2.—The bodies of the murdered archduke, Francis Ferdinand, and his consort the Duchess of Hohenberg, arrived in Vienna tonight on a special train.

More than 500,000 people lined the streets as the coffins were transported under a strong military guard to the chapel of the imperial palace.

Only one mourner followed the crepe-draped hearse. He was the Archduke Carl Francis Joseph, the late archduke's nephew, and now heir to the throne. Arriving at the palace chapel, the funeral cortege was received by the master of ceremonies and the palace priests. The coffins were carried in and placed upon a catafalque, covered with golden cloth.

Beside the catafalque, reposing on cushions, are the archduke's crown, arched sword and scepter, the murdered prince's general's plumed helmet and sword and his decorations.

The orders of the duchess lay at the foot of her coffin with a pair of long, white gloves and her fan.

A dispatch from Sarajevo states that M. Nollit, a Serbian agitator, has been arrested and executed in connection with the investigation into the plot which resulted in the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife. No confirmation could be secured from official sources.

The international situation involving Serbia and Austria threatens to become acute as a result of the murdered country's demand that the Belgrade government institute a rigid investigation of the conspiracy and punish the plotters. The demand for the inquiry was sent to Belgrade today by the Austrian foreign office.

Sarajevo, July 2.—A complete confession of the murder plot against the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg was made to the police here tonight by Medjojo Cabrinovic, who tried to kill them by hurling a bomb at their carriage last Sunday.

He declared that he was in league with Princip, who fired the fatal shots after Cabrinovic's bomb had missed its mark. With Princip he had come to Sarajevo from Belgrade for the sole purpose of ending the lives of the royal couple.

London, July 2.—As a result of the recent assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the attempt to kill the royal family of Austria, King George and Queen Mary will be closely guarded.

ULSTER CLASH AVOIDED.

Belfast, Ireland, July 2.—An immediate armed clash between the Ulster Home Rule Unionists and Irish Nationalists was averted today when the commissioner of police issued orders to his men to arrest no one carrying arms.

Cravenagh Day, July 31, is viewed with dread, as the Tory forces are planning to make a big demonstration which the Nationalists will undoubtedly resist.

VIRGINIA WILL TRY TO COLLECT BACK TAXES

Alexandria Seeks to Recover $100,000 Alleged to Be Ten Years Overdue.

TEN BIG ESTATES INVOLVED

Alexandria, Va., July 2.—Efforts to collect $100,000 back taxes running for a period of ten years will be made very soon by the State of Virginia and the city of Alexandria. Ten estates in the city are involved.

This amount represents taxes on stocks, bonds, etc., amounting to approximately $100,000. The total for ten years would therefore be $1,000,000 on which taxes are alleged to be due.

Of the amount of taxes alleged to be due, $80,000 represents the city's part and $20,000 the part of the State of Virginia. Commissioner of Revenue Charles H. Callahan, following instructions from R. Lee Moore, State auditor, made the assessments against the estates.

A report of the estates involved was made by W. N. Lipscomb, examiner of records, Manassas, Va. He made his report to State Auditor Moore, and the latter had Commissioner
